COUNTY BOARD HITS BACK AT BRIDGE WRIT

Striking back at a writ of prohibition filed by Charles Van Damme, which restrained them from adopting an ordinance granting a bridge franchise to Roy O. Long, the County Board of Supervisors yesterday decided to file an appeal in the event Judge McKenzie upholds the writ when it comes up for hearing April 14. This decision was reached after a conference between board members and District Attorney A. R. Tinning at Martinez.

The writ, granted on petition of Charles Van Damme, president of the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry Company, who competed unsuccessfully with Long for the franchise, is returnable on April 14 when arguments will be heard on its permanency. Previously Judge McKenzie directed the supervisors to reopen the hearing and grant Van Damme first choice on building a structure acceptable to the board.

The district attorney said after the conference that steps on the proposed appeal would necessarily have to await the court appearance of April 14.

Faced with the court's restraining order the board had no choice but to continue the proposed franchise award to Long for two weeks.

The CORE

Every effort of the people of Richmond should be put forth to prevent the entire county bearing the expense of an inter-county tunnel connecting the central part of Contra Costa with Oakland. The movement is being sponsored by an Oakland real estate firm, that has large acreage in this county. If the property owners contiguous to the proposed road, want to bear the expense, that is their business, but to saddle the cost on the taxpayers of the entire county, would only mean an added tax burden, and diverting the business of Contra Costa to Oakland.

The action of Governor Young in appointing Mrs. Mary Roberts Coolidge, formerly head of the department of sociology of Mills, to a place on the state board of education is to be commended. Mrs. Coolidge's experience in educational lines will be very valuable to the state, and after all is no one has more to do with the training and education of the young than a woman.

Fortunately for many, freaks are not taxable as such unless they work at it. A Texas call with eight legs was assessed an occupation tax when placed on exhibition, through a ruling by the state attorney general.

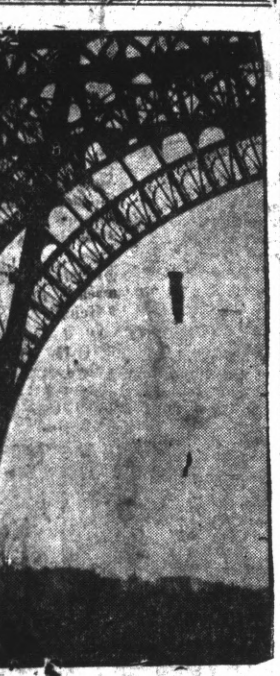

O. O. McIntyre declares that the present-day hair-bobbing fad started when Irene Castle was forced to have her locks clipped after a spell of fever. Anyway, no fever was ever more contagious than the fashion she started.

The combined ages of seven sisters in England totals 600 years. Jane is 95; Hannah, 85; Mary, 83; Louise, 80; and the "baby" of the family, Alice, is 70. All are old maids and are named Bachelor.

Alleged lack of discipline aboard the ferryboat Peralta was hit yesterday in San Francisco by Steamboat Inspector Frank Turner at the trial of the engine-room crew of the Key Route boat.

Turner's outburst came when E. A. Hansen, oiler and relief fireman, admitted he did not know how much bilge water there was in the engine room when he undertook to pump it out after the accident of February 17. Hansen further declared that he failed to report the use of the pump to Chief Engineer Dyson, who is also on trial charged with negligence.

"I don't care whether you prefer charges of negligence against me or not," said Hansen when Turner became aroused at what he thought was lack of co-operation from the witness.

CAMPAIGN TO SAVE LIVES TO BE WAGED

Richmond Chapter, American Red Cross, will sponsor a life saving campaign early in May, according to plans made at the monthly meeting of the board of directors last evening at Red Cross headquarters.

Experts will be in charge of the campaign, Dr. J. W. Bumgarner was appointed by Chairman Bert Seoble to make complete arrangements for the course.

This life saving campaign will be the first of a number of anticipated activities of the local chapter for the year.

Following the recent disaster in the southern part of the state, the local chapter discussed fully disaster preparedness plans at the meeting last night and George Eaker, Way M. Neville and S. S. Ripley were appointed to make further investigation of details governing disaster relief in emergencies.

The action was taken on the recommendation of the city planning commission.

Bogus Check Used By Man To Pay Fine

There is a certain amount of doubt in the mind of Judge Alstrom regarding the appreciation with which G. Gondola accepted a reduction of a felony charge to a misdemeanor.

It is also possible that G. Gondola viewed the attendant assessment as out of proportion to and not in keeping with the reduction.

At any rate Gondola, fined the sum of $100, wrote out a check for that amount and turned it over to Judge Alstrom yesterday morning. Then it developed that the confidence with which Gondola wrote out the three figures was not substantiated by the American Trust Bank at Point Richmond. The check was returned marked "no funds."

It is understood that Gondola may be served with a commitment when District Attorney Jacobs is apprised of the oversight.

STEGE SEEKS PARK PURCHASE

Stege Improvement club is anxious for a park in that section, and at the meeting of the council last evening a communication was read from that organization in which it asked the council to purchase East Shore park as a public park.

The letter was signed by Louis Angell, president of the improvement club, and it was stated the information had been received that the proposed park was for sale and could be purchased at a very reasonable figure.

The matter was referred to the park committee.

HEAVY SEAS PERIL BOATS OFF OREGON

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Sweeping down from the northwest, a rain storm and heavy gale roared across the Oregon boundary today into California and before noon had left its mark on the entire central and northern section of the state.

Shipping suffered most from the storm. Inland points welcomed the down pour as an invaluable aid to crops and hailed with delight the heaviest snowfall of the season in the high Sierras.

At sea, however, a bad southwest gale was worrying mariners and storm signals were posted the length of the Pacific Coast from Monterey to the Canadian line.

Although abating somewhat, a heavy southwest gale was still blowing on the Pacific. A steam lumber schooner was reported in distress off the Oregon coast, four storm-battered fishing boats were repairing damage at anchor in San Francisco bay and a fifth member of the fishing fleet was reported missing.

With 23 men aboard, the freighter, Jane Nettleton was reported in distress today off Cape Blanco, 342 miles north of here, according to radio reports received from Coos Bay by the marine department of the chamber of commerce.

WAR CLOUDS OVER EGYPT

LONDON, April 2.—Warships have been ordered to proceed at once to the Suez canal, following the receipt of the Egyptian note declaring the Egyptian demand complete independence.

The British cabinet held two meetings today, one lasting for two hours to discuss the note although no immediate answer was drafted, the board lines of Britain's reply to Nahar Pasha, the Egyptian premier were agreed upon.

It was semi-officially stated tonight that Britain will reassert her intention of maintaining the protectorate regardless of anything the Egyptians may do and if necessary do anything to protect the lives of foreign citizens.

PLANNING BOARD OUTLINES SINGLE DWELLING PLAN

On the evening of May 4th at the chambers of the council in the City Hall there will be a public meeting, when the question of single dwelling districts will be taken up and discussed. The meeting has been called by the council on the suggestion of the city planning commission.

The "single dwelling district" is of vital importance to every property owner in the city, and it is desired that as many be present as possible. The idea of the single dwelling district is to prevent apartment houses and flats being erected in every section of the city.

At the meeting of the council last night the planning commission submitted a tentative report on the question and recommended that single dwelling districts be established as follows:

1—Comprising Mira Vista and East Richmond boulevard, a district bounded north and south by the boarder lines of the city.

2—The district bounded by Wilcox avenue, Twenty-fourth street, Roosevelt avenue and Mariposa avenue.

3—The district bounded by Fifteenth street, a line half way between Twentieth and Twenty-third streets, Roosevelt avenue, and the northern boundary line of the city.

4—The district including Eleventh, Twelfth, Roosevelt and Clinton avenues.

5—District bounded by the Santa Fe right of way, Standard Oil plant, Golden Gate avenue, Crest avenue and San Francisco bay.

If these districts are adopted by the council after the holding of the public mass meeting, apartments and dwellings can be constructed in any of the other sections of the city.

CONTRACTS LET FOR ROAD WORK

The long sought improvement of Standard avenue, one of the heaviest traveled arteries in the city, will start in a short time and be rushed to completion at the earliest possible moment.

At the meeting of the council last evening the contract for the work was awarded to the California Construction Company for $14,587. The other bidders were McDonald and Maggiora $45,888.50, Matchison Company $46,538, Warrant Brothers Company $47,197.50.

The work of installing sewers in the East Richmond Boulevard tract will be done by Fred Meyers. The contract was awarded to him at $9,043.63. The three other bidders were L. L. Page, $16,764.20; T. F. Geary, $16,188.65; Robert McNair, $10,545.40.

ADDITIONS TO HARBOR TO LURE WORLD'S TRADE

A year from June the new harbor unit of the city of Richmond and the new unit of the Farr Terminal Corporation will be completed, and ships will be landing at them on the inner harbor and discharging their cargoes of freight which will come from all ports of the world. Each of the units will cost $250,000.

The council last evening approved the plans for the two units and advertised for bids for the construction of its new unit, the bids to be opened on the night of April 24th. The contract for the Farr unit will be let separately by that corporation.

Each of the units consists of a wharf and transit shed, each 150 feet in width and 800 feet in length.

Bids will be received in segregated form, so that every opportunity will be given local contractors to put in offers on the work. Separate bids will be received on the piling and flooring, which is the substructure, electrical plumbing, roofing and sheet metal work on the superstructure, and also on the walls of the superstructure. These new units will be erected at the foot of Tenth street.

Both of the plans for the units were taken up by the council and approved.

After the action was taken Fred D. Parr stated that the plans prepared for the two new units by the engineer, H. J. Brunner were as fine a set as he had ever seen and reflected great credit on Mr. Brunner.

"I wish to say that I appreciate very much the co-operation of the members of the council and the city officials, and wish to thank them for the spirit they have manifested during this work."

"The present dredging contract will be completed in four days, the plans for the widening and deepening of the harbor have received the approval of the engineer on this coast and have been forwarded to Washington, the site of the Ford Motor Company has been filled to grade, the filling for Tenth, Fourteenth and Hall avenues is finished and in one year the new harbor facilities will be a reality, and ships will be landing at them."

Mayor Mattie Chandler in one of those happy speeches, for which she has become noted, replied to Parr by stating that he had received the co-operation of the council and the city officials because he had lived up to his part of the agreement in every detail, and just as long as you deal fairly with the city you will have its co-operation. We are happy to have you in charge of the development of our harbor."

LAYING LINOLEUM

Modern linoleum floors laid the right way give long wear of service. First a thick layer of felt is pasted over the wood floor. This takes care of expansion and contraction and even rough places. Then the linoleum is cemented over the felt, fitting, matching and sealing the seams perfectly. The result is a smooth, water-tight floor. It is beautiful in appearance and good for long years of service. Let linoleum specialists supply your needs. See their AD in the Buyers Guide on the classified page.

BUYERS STOCK
G. Bagna, pioneer grocerman, of this city, has purchased the stock of groceries of Mrs. James Nelson, Tenth street. It was announced yesterday. The stock will be transferred to the Quality Market of which Bagna is proprietor. Mrs. Nelson has taken a position with the Quality Market.

MARRIES HER "BUTLER"

The marriage of rich Mrs. J. Pierpont Edwards to John Burden, said to have been her butler, arouses natural interest.

It is a piece of great good fortune for Mr. Burden, who, however, denies he was ever a butler.

It is equally good fortune for Mrs. Edwards in any case.

The real foundation of successful married life is mutual happiness. And it is quite evident from the circumstances of this romance that happiness has been found by the two persons directly concerned.

It is evident that Mrs. Edwards discovered a spirit of love, kindness, sympathy and understanding in her former employee that was lacking in other men of her acquaintance.

In following the dictates of her heart in agreeing to his proposals she was also following the dictates of common sense.

Snobs, both in and out of the Social Register, will, of course, turn up their noses at such alliances as theirs.

Such people are profoundly shocked when society leaders marry, as the saying goes, "beneath them."

It will usually be found that snobs have certain ancestors who might have been proud to attain the distinction of being an efficient butler or other employee.

In their family tree will usually be found such gibbering monkeys as murderers, cutthroats, brigands, wife-beaters and horse thieves.

Snobs overlook one important truth—that real Americans recognize no title except that of honesty and merit.

The average run of folks will agree that John Burden has earned his title and will wish him and his bride all the joy that married life can afford.

A PRESIDENT'S WORD

For the third time President Coolidge announces that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

His original declaration last summer should have been sufficient.

When he uttered his famous "I do not choose to run" he meant that he would not run.

Politicians, anxious either to embarrass him or to promote their own interests, tried to convince the world that the President did not mean what he said. That he was evasive. That he would actually run if the nomination was forced upon him.

The President knew that the people of the nation knew what he meant.

He sat back in his quiet, silent fashion and permitted the politicians to keep on deluding themselves.

Opportunity for speaking emphatically came when Wyoming Republican leaders asked the privilege of designating him as their choice for the nomination.

The President said that he "must decline to grant the request."

Walks After Years of Prayer

MANY DEVOUT ITALIANS in New York are regarding as a miracle the case of "a hopeless paralytic" who suddenly arose and walked. He is William T. Frusino, an Italian inventor, who, with his wife and young son, prayed incessantly for the return of his strength. His faith in the power of religion was justified Sunday morning, when he moved first one foot and then the other—then he walked! Doctors had told him it would be impossible.

VIGOROUS HEALTH

NUTS are considered a luxury, but they should really be looked upon as a staple article of food. When properly eaten they are little if any more expensive than other sources of protein and fat and if more people used them increased production would reduce the cost still more.

Nuts have the advantage of keeping well and can be purchased in bulk. However, from the health standpoint nuts have many other advantages.

First, they are really "live" food. If planted they will grow. Such food cannot help but be more valuable than the flesh of dead animals. Second, they contain generous amounts of mineral elements and vitamins to balance the acid-forming tendency of the fat and protein, which otherwise makes up their chief bulk. Third, they are hard and require much mastication. This exercises the teeth, stimulates the flow of all digestive juices and makes overeating in general less likely. However, it is easy to overeat on nuts, as they are very concentrated and it is well to remember that they should be employed in moderation, and should be combined with fruits or green vegetables which supply bulk.

Is horseback riding a good form of exercise? Will it give one all the exercise needed? A LOVER OF HORSES. It is a good exercise for the horse, but not much for the rider. It will give your back and thighs a little exercise, but nothing else. The chief benefit of horseback riding is due to the general shaking up and to being out in the fresh air. Ride horseback all you wish to since you enjoy it, but also take general exercise if you wish to maintain the best of health and a balanced development.

I have suddenly developed a very painful slightly swollen wrist. I have had slight pains at times in other joints, but nothing like this. Please advise.—ROBERT B.

From your description you would seem to have developed an acute arthritis, but a definite diagnosis can only be made after personal examination. If it is arthritis the usual treatment would be an orange and grapefruit diet with enemas until the acute symptoms subside. Alternate hot and cold applications several times per day and a cold pack worn at night are also employed. Rest of the affected part is advisable. Eating is resumed gradually after the fruit diet, using mostly raw fruits and vegetables.

Mary (saying her prayers)—God please make Philadelphia the capital of Texas. Mother (overhearing her daughter)—Mary, why did you ask the Lord to make Philadelphia the capital of Texas. Mary—That's what I wrote on my examination paper.

Affairs of the Heart and Your Marriage Problems

Patricia Lee

Patricia Lee answers questions relating to problems of married life. Names and address should be added to letters as a mark of good faith but will not be published. Readers who desire private answers should inclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of typing, etc. Because of space limitations it is not possible to print answers to all letters received, and readers who wish an early reply should take advantage of this special service. On account of the large quantity of mail coming to this department, about ten days should be allowed for a reply. Write to Patricia Lee, care of this paper.

Dear Patricia Lee:

What do you think of a man that will strike his son in the face and make his nose bleed? My son and myself have a small sum of money in the bank—some that he has saved. My husband says I stole the money, but I think I helped earn it. I chop and carry all the wood, empty ashes, cook for seven, mend, iron, sweep and scrub. My husband wanted $55 to pay for something and I told him I couldn't get into the bank as it was a holiday. He got peeved over that; doesn't speak to my son or me, and hardly to the rest of the children. All I hear from him is that he wants a separation. I am willing to give him one, but I claim he will have to support the children and he says he won't. I am no angel, as I am cross myself, but I don't believe in telling everybody my troubles, and if I get out of him, he does unless I get out of him.

MARTHA.

Dear Martha—What do I think? Well, I think you are both old enough to know better. By the time you have a family that is fairly grown up you ought to have some arrangement that would provide against squabbles over money. Put your house on a budget system and you can't save together, save yourself and let your husband save his money, too. The other adjustments won't be as easy to make. Any man that strikes his 18-year-old son is a coward. And to tell the neighbors about home difficulties reacts against himself, no against you.

POWDER MY BACK

NOVEL BY SARLINE DEHAAS

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. "POWDER MY BACK," starring Irene Rich, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Adele Dayton, famous musical comedy star playing in "Powder My Back," has numerous photographs made of titled men powdering her back, to be used for publicity purposes. One of these pictures appears in her home town paper in Brooklyn, Iowa. Mabel, her married sister, sees it, and is horribly shocked. She writes to Adele, inviting her to visit Brooklyn, suggesting that some purifying country air might do her good. Adele is amused and accepts. On the way to Brooklyn Harry Stark, recognizing Adele, introduces himself as a friend of her niece, Mildred. On the evening of her sister's arrival Mabel gives a reception.

At last Adele decided that it was time to make her appearance. Renee touched her mistress here and there with the powder puff, and then stood back to smile admiringly upon her.

"How do I look, Renee?" Adele asked, trying to survey herself in the three-quarter length mirror.

"Ravishing, Madame," Renee sighed. "So perfect."

"All right, then," Adele picked up a great orange feather fan and started for the stairway. "And now for a wonderful, old-fashioned party."

She started down the steps with the famous "promenade walk" she always used on the stage.

As she descended the last step to the landing, Mabel rushed forward and greeted her enthusiastically. At least she tried to be enthusiastic, but her face showed traces of the disapproval she felt when she gazed at Adele's bare back and arms, and her short dress. But she wished that she had warned Adele about her clothes, but it probably wouldn't have done any good, anyhow, so she started out on the long line of introductions, through which the actress smiled and bowed and nodded in her best stage manner.

But at last it was all over, and Adele was free to wander about and talk to people. Mabel was getting up tables for bridge, but as Adele simply refused to play, saying that she would rather talk, her sister gathered the old group together and the women, in especial, sat down to the lawn. Adele immediately became the center of attraction, but somehow, there wasn't the same sort of delight she had felt when attending a party in Brooklyn when she had lived there. She looked out on the lawn. There wasn't a lantern, or anything. Everybody seemed cooped up in the house, where before, they had always taken to the lawn. But that was before bridge and punch had come to Brooklyn.

Now Adele, talking with John, walked over to the big punch bowl that almost filled the dining room table. John introduced her to several newcomers, and offered her a glass of punch. It was badly made, with a seeming shortage of flavoring matter. A staid-looking man who had been talking to some of the others came up to Adele. He remembered having seen her as a girl—she had been in a lower grade than himself in school. Oh, yes, he was in the wheat business now, and had raised a family of his own—married Betty Parker—perhaps Adele remembered her. Adele didn't, but she nodded sweetly.

"This stuff's mighty thin," he nodded towards the punch, and then looked at Adele knowingly. "Why—I don't know—Adele laughed.

"I have a little of the very best here," he revealed a silver hip flask. "Thought you might like a little."

"Dear me," Adele shook a finger at him playfully. "I thought you must certainly be a prohibitionist at the least, from your looks."

"I am," he laughed. "It's a good thing for my business and the people I know—but just between two old friends—" he held out the flask.

"No, thank you," Adele said. "I can't drink. I have to watch my throat, you know—it's not my best good for it." Adele knew, and was that under other circumstances, she might have taken a nicely flavored cocktail or something, but the sauntering manner of the man's eyes, and the idea of offering her a drink out of a flask, made her shudder. It was a man should put a drink in front before the public, and then slyly wink at his own little bottle. And she left him as soon as possible, looking about for Mildred or Harry, neither of whom she could see at the moment.

She found various people who remembered her, but few whom she actually had ever thought of again, after having left Brooklyn. She didn't mind being looked at in the least, and, as everybody seemed fascinated by the gown, she displayed it.

Four women sat at one bridge table, talking as the cards were being shuffled.

"I've never seen anything quite so brazen in all my life," one murmured to her neighbor. "Really, I call it vulgar—that dress. She told me she got it in Paris."

"I've no doubt about that," another elevated her eyebrows. "But what I'd like to know is what she uses to keep so young looking."

"Young-looking, my dear," a third put in, shuffling out the cards. "I'm quite certain I noticed tiny wrinkles about her eyes—"

"Well, she certainly doesn't look her age, anyhow," the second woman picked up her cards and scanned them.

"Well, I certainly have my doubts as to that kind of a woman," the third put in. "Personally, I'll say that I'd rather have a good reputation than good looks—it lasts longer."

"No, of course we can't

Soviet's Bottle Factory Sets Inefficiency Record

(By Universal Service) MOSCOW, March 30.—All records for inefficiency in Soviet industry have been shattered by the bottle manufacturing division of the government Silicate Trust, the report of an investment commission reveals.

One "new and modern" plant succeeded in producing 340 perfect vodka bottles in three months on an investment of only $500,000. Actually the commission found that 160,240 bottles were turned out, but exactly 160,000 of them were so badly chipped that they had to be junked. The Silicate Trust which built the plant estimated the purchase price and installation of six American bottle machines at $290,000. Only two machines were bought, however, and the cost was $300,000. Another $75,000 was spent testing the machines. About 200 laborers were employed and the plant started operations with a celebration. After three months of producing broken bottles, the plant has been closed and the manager and his assistants arrested on charges of negligence.

Another plant which the commission inspected cost $1,000,000 and was manufacturing bottles at a cost of 28 cents each, a price so prohibitive that the Liquor Trust refused to buy them. Preliminary estimates placed the cost of construction at $400,000 and the cost per bottle at two cents. The commission ordered that the plant be put on a more efficient basis if possible.

In a third plant the commission caused the arrest of the manager Ginsling for accepting a bribe of a gold watch from private vodka brewers for selling them bottles direct from the factory.

MENJOU STARS IN FAST FILM AT CALIFORNIA

A beautiful love song has been photographed. At first glance, this seems beyond the limits of the silent drama, but after you have seen "Serenade," the Paramount picture starring Adolphe Menjou, which opened at the California Theatre yesterday for a run of two days, you will arrive at the same conclusion.

"Serenade" is not only the best picture Adolphe Menjou has ever done, but it is the sincerest, most convincing, photodrama ever presented in the field of romance.

Briefly it concerns the age-old question of whether art and marriage can be reconciled. Menjou is a young Viennese musician who achieves fame and fortune after he meets the beautiful Kathryn Carven, in whose mother's home he has rented a room, and under whose inspiration he writes the masterpiece of his career, an opera, whose tunes are on every lip and every violin in the wide world.

The mad adulation of the public turns his head plausibly enough. The wife who stood by him in the days of his struggle, is neglected until finally his duplicity causes a domestic crisis. The rouse of another woman's lips and tell tale powder on his coat sleeve lead the wife to drive the devoted wife to take sudden and effective action.

Through all of "Serenade" runs the sweet, haunting love song that was dedicated to the young artists' great first love. By a clever directorial handling of tempo, music that is heard, but music that is seen, it is an entirely new treatment of the photodrama. Menjou's skillful artistry makes it a success coupled with the adeptness of the director, H. O. Abadie Arrast, who was responsible for Menjou's last two successes, "Service for Ladies" and "A Gentleman of Paris."

Kathryn Carven, who was Menjou's leading woman in the former picture, is beautiful and appealing in this. The rest of the cast includes Lawrence Grant, J. Basquette and Martha Franklin. The story is from an original by the famous playwright, Ernest Valda.

Other features include "Monty of the Mounted," a Lupino Lane comedy; "Travels at Home," Topics of the Day and Aesop's Fables.

WESTERN FILM HOLDS BOARDS IN RICHMOND

"Lightning," a Tiffany Production picturization of the same name by Zane Grey was the feature picture attraction which opened at the Richmond theatre yesterday for two days run. It is a Western story that has an altogether different twist insofar as stories of this locale are concerned. Among the cast of players the acting of the horse "Lightning" by name, stands out as one of the highlights of a highly dramatic picture in which the romance of two cowboys and two cabaret performers is paralleled by the romance of a wild stallion for a shy and restive mare.

The story of "Lightning" in brief tells of an outlaw horse who as king of a herd of wild horses is at war with the men of the plains who are bound to catch him for the reward that is offered. He escapes the traps set for him by two brothers, range riders. They go to Chicago and after selling their carloads of animals take in the sights of the Windy City and meet there two cabaret performers and immediately fall in love with them. They find out that it is highly dangerous to play the game of hearts with girls of this sort and they return to the wide open spaces to forget their experience. Again they take a wild ride, this time through engine trouble, plane and through engine trouble, and are landed in the desert. They are discovered by the two brothers who set them to work, but escaping find themselves lost in a sandstorm. How they are rescued and "Lightning" captured fills out an interesting and colorful story.

The various roles are capably acted by Jobyna Ralston, Margaret Livingston, Robert Frazer, Guinn Williams, Pat Harmon, and "Bull" Montana.

Other features include "Broke Again," a comedy scream Topics of the Day; and "Aesop's Fables."

CLUB SPURS SEARCH FOR SLAIN WOMAN

With the finding of bits of clothing and quilt near Carquinez bridge yesterday, police prepared to launch a new search of the waters of the strait tomorrow in a final effort to recover the body of Mrs. Antoine, wife of an Oakland mechanic who was slain by her husband in order that he might marry an 18-year-old sweetheart.

Neighbors of the dead woman declared the petticoat and quilt as belonging to Mrs. Antoine. Meanwhile, Lila Stovall Antoine, bride of the Oakland killer who claims he threw his wife's remains over the Carquinez bridge, is recovering from shock of the tragedy and is making arrangements to secure a divorce from Antoine, who is charged with murder.

All love died, she declares, when Arthur Antoine told her the gruesome story of how he had slain his mate with a hammer, sewed her body in a canvas sack and then tossed it into the straits.

Stronger cables have been secured for the grappling irons, and police are hopeful that tomorrow's hunt will end in recovery of the body of Mrs. Antoine.

NEW TROOP FORMED

Troop No. 10, of Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Richmond Den of Lions, will be installed at the regular meeting of the club in the Hotel Carquinez today. The charter will be presented and the members will be vested in their badges and receive membership cards.

Rewards of Thrift

THE old argument that limited incomes do not permit a margin for saving falls under its own weight. Thrifty persons contrive to budget their earnings so as to allow a surplus for deposit in the bank. Wise economy is the answer to the whole problem of saving. A savings account in the American Trust Company earns interest at the rate of four percent, compounded semi-annually.

Government To Remove Old Shells From Carquinez Bay

More than 200 shells of varying sizes, resting at the bottom of Carquinez Straits, near Benicia arsenal, for more than a year, and a source of constant annoyance and trouble to fishermen, will be removed by the government and a crew will start work Wednesday. The War Department had several times refused to remove the shells asserting that their loss from a barge during a storm while they were being transported from San Francisco to the arsenal was due to an act of God and government agencies were not responsible.

At the request of I. N. Hylen, secretary of the Sacramento River Fishermen's Union, the aid of United States Senators Johnson and Samuel Shortridge and Congressman C. F. Curry was enlisted with the result that representations were made to the War Department at Washington and removal of the shells was directed. Colonel T. H. Jackson, Engineer Corps, at San Francisco has assigned a diver and crew to start work on removal of the shells. Fishermen have long complained that their nets have become snagged on the shells, damaging them and delaying their operations.

LOCAL JEWELER HOLDS AUCTION

To reduce his stock and in order to raise funds to pay creditors, Otto Poulsen, Richmond jeweler will conduct a public auction sale of his merchandise beginning today at 705 Macdonald avenue. Poulsen announced that he had overbought holiday goods and is taking this means of satisfying his creditors.

Sales will be conducted daily, beginning today, at one o'clock and seven o'clock p. m. Poulsen, who has been in business during the past 20 years, is not planning to quit but is conducting the sale merely until the amount needed is raised. "The goods for sale are the regular stock of the store, including diamonds, watches, jewelry, silverware, and clocks," Poulsen said today. "Since my business will continue as usual after the auction, everything will have the usual guarantee to be as represented. I have carefully studied the various methods by which I might raise the money I need, and consider the auction method the simplest and best. I thought of a reduction price sale, but then people are in doubt as to whether the reductions are genuine or not."

EL CERRITO COUNCIL DELAYS LIGHT AND SEWER ACTIONS UNTIL AFTER CITY ELECTION

Considerable business was transacted at the meeting of the council of El Cerrito held last evening. Action of the installation of police signals on San Pablo avenue at either Fairmont or Stockton avenues was laid over until after the election Monday, on the recommendation of Councilman Phil A. Lee.

Permission to use the poles of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company on the westside of San Pablo avenue for the signal was received by the council at its meeting Monday night.

Request of C. E. Perkins to have Blake street near Moser Lane repaired was referred to Street Superintendent Forrest Wright for one week.

Purchase of seven double stall election booths at $18.50 each and seven ballot boxes at $9.00 each from the H. C. Crocker Co. of San Francisco was ordered by the council Monday night.

On account of the polling place for election of councilmen next Monday being in the council chambers, the council will meet and adjourn to Monday, April 15.

On the recommendation of Councilman Phil A. Lee, no action will be taken on the installation of fire hydrants and street lights until the new members, to be elected next Monday, are seated.

Councilman Phil A. Lee reported that a hole in Stockton avenue near Alameda should be repaired immediately. The matter was referred to Street Superintendent Forrest Wright.

Martin Griffin, of Oakland, was granted a permit to construct a store building on San Pablo avenue near Schmidt Lane, by the council.

Street Superintendent Forrest Wright was instructed to have a foundation placed under the building moved onto the city property at Manilla and Kearney streets by the El Cerrito Lions Club for the use of the Boy Scouts.

The recommendation was made.

School nurse, says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically, and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. And works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.
